EXPERIENCE DIGITAL GROWTH

Every business is unique and every customer has different needs and requirements. We will formulate and implement a bespoke digital strategy especially for your business and customers.

With 40% of the world's population actively using the internet business' need to re-think their digital strategy and plan for the future.

Purchases on desktop are still more popular than mobile buying at the moment. However, mobile is playing a more prominent role in the buying process. 46% of UK consumers use their mobile to actively engage in research – usually moving back to the desktop to complete their purchase (Our Mobile Planet, Google). Therefore, if organisations do not have websites which adapt to mobile, then they run the risk of not being found on the desktop, and therefore run the risk of delivering consumers to a competitor's brand.

TACTILE DIGITAL CAMPAIGN IMPLEMENTATION

Our digital approach focuses on evaluating current marketplace conditions, understanding how the market interacts and engages and how the consumer buying process is shaped in order to structure your aim and objectives.

Successful digital campaigns will focus on achievable goals while using creativity and analysing user experience.

Both consumers and search engines interpret websites, therefore, an agile campaign will also take these factors into consideration.

YOUR AIM & OBJECTIVES

We will closely analyse your business' aim and objectives and relate these to your desired online activity.

YOUR WEBSITE

What type of content you wish to include on your website will influence your target audience. Color scheme, functionality and speed all have. This phase also includes how your website can be aligned with your brand and how search engines interpret your website.

WHAT RESULTS CAN YOU EXPECT?

Our campaigns ultimately lead to brand visibility increasing online, higher conversions, increased website traffic and better positioned keyword rankings.

THE MARKETPLACE

Analysing how your customers interact online, how your website is found by your target market and the size of your potential customer base are all factors which should be carefully considered

WHAT IS ORGANIC SEARCH (SEO)?

Organic Search (SEO) is the technique of improving the visibility of a website within the search results of popular search engines, such as Google, Bing or Yahoo.

Organic Search has changed over the years and now the formation and qualified promotion of factual and unique content which serve to fulfil the needs of the user is seen as imperative to strong rankings.

Natural link-building is also part of the SEO puzzle and if you can't attract high-quality links to your website then you are missing a piece.

WHY DO YOU NEED IT?

If consumers can't find your website then you will receive no traffic. What does no traffic really mean? No return on investment, no sales, no enquiries and no conversions.

A successful return on investment is only created through relevant traffic which is targeted to specific landing pages to sell a specific product or service. Organic search provides the advantage of:

- Building brand awareness online
- Build brand love & trust
- Be perceived an authority within your industry

TECHNICAL SEO

This element of SEO begins with an in-depth website audit to ensure there are no technical drawbacks hindering performance.

This audit will result in a collection of proposed recommendations which will ultimately shape your SEO aim and objectives.

Our proposed amendments can be implemented by our in-house teams or we can work alongside third-party development teams to make sure our changes are correctly implemented.

On-page SEO audits are very important as they guarantee your website is built in line with SEO industry standards with a website structure which makes your content easily accessible to search engines.

Our experienced team of SEO consultants in Pickmyurl will check that your practices do not limit the crawling activities of search engines and that there are no elements about your website that Google, or other search engines, could interpret as against their guidelines. Our SEO team in Pickmyurl uses a structured SEO audit system to check every aspect of your site. This system is cross-checked against best practices in the wider community to ensure that you receive the most up-to-date advice and relevant recommendations for your businesses' website.

If you have any questions about the technical build of your website or feel that your website may be drawbacks in your online strategy, please contact our Digital Marketing Team, the only SEO Company Pickmyurl who can arrange an in-depth technical SEO audit.

Local SEO is a measured and geographically targeted strategy to gain new visitors on your website through optimising local search results.

It is imperative to have a local SEO search strategy if you wish to target your local marketplace. Ensure you are sending the right message to the right people. This is one of the most relevant strategies for SMEs and local businesses to drive local trade enquiries.

INCREASE BRAND VISIBILITY ONLINE

There are a variety of SEO strategies which can increase the visibility of your website online.

Writing 100% unique, high-quality content and promoting helpful and factual information to your visitors is the best method for interacting with your website's traffic.

Other methods for increasing your SEO rating include building website links to relevant, high-quality websites in your industry, adding your website to Google My Business, formatting the technical side to your website code, positioning keywords correctly and structuring headers, and creating SEO-friendly URLs.

Monitoring tools such as Google analytics will enable your business to focus on improving conversion rates. This is a fundamental factor when it comes to marketing e-commerce websites.

SEO is not an appropriate strategy for every website. There are other Internet marketing strategies which can be more effective like paid advertising through pay per click (PPC) campaigns

Search engines constantly tweak and change their algorithms, this usually results in a website's average position moving in search results. There was over 500 algorithm tweaks and updates that year (Google, 2010). We suggest that all businesses follow Google's guidelines and that you implement a white-hat strategy at all times.

GOOGLE ADWORDS MANAGEMENT

We provide a variety of digital marketing solutions which can not only increase website traffic, but also the revenue which is generated from your online shop.

Google Adwords is a cost-effective, targeted method of driving the right customer, at the perfect time to your website's landing page. This type of paid advertising works on a cost-per-click model, whereby you pay Google a specific amount of money per web visitor.

The price you pay varies based on the keywords which you wish to target. The cost-per-click varies on many factors, such as marketplace competition. Once you start advertising your adverts are entered into an auction.

The more relevant and well-written your adverts perform, the less you end up paying and your adverts will be better positioned. Usually this results in a high click-through-rate and increased volume of clicks.

Relevant and well written adverts appear prominently on Google's search results page. Your adverts are rated by Google and assigned a value. How relevant your advert is deemed depends on how well you have written your advert and how relevant the landing page is to your advert.

ADVANTAGES OF USING GOOGLE ADWORDS

- Targeted means to drive relevant traffic to your website
- Tracked reporting for website conversions
- Reduced monetary risk involved as you only pay for what traffic you receive
- Easy to manage, setup or pause
- Helps increase prominence in Google's search results page

GENERATE WEBSITE TRAFFIC INSTANTLY

This form of paid advertising can generate qualified traffic straight away. If you have enough budget and achieve a top placement potential customers will see your advert.

When consumers are searching for the keyword terms on which you are bidding and you have placed a well-written advert, you will start to get clicks the second the advert is matched.

Google Adwords advertising is also very agile. Organic search engine marketing or other forms of advertising may take weeks or months to achieve website traffic.

With Google Adwords you can adjust your target audience in minutes. Therefore, by being able to adjust your pay per click campaigns instantly, means you can change direction efficiently.

STIMULATING DIGITAL ADVERTISING UTILISING THE LATEST TECHNIQUES

REACH YOUR TARGET MARKET

A challenge which many businesses can be faced with is how to accurately reach their target market in a cost-effective and timely manner. We can set-up and manage your display advertising and retargeting campaign, which will generate more leads and an increase in conversions.

TARGETED DIGITAL MARKETING

Display advertising can take various formats, from static banners to video advertising. The use of rich media attracts website visitors' attention, so that they gain interest in the product or service and are compelled to find out more.

RETARGETING

Retargeting or remarketing, as it is commonly known, is central to every digital marketing strategy. Retargeting uses cookies to serve adverts to visitors that are interested in your product or services. This is an effective way of capturing previous visitors. It is a marketing technique which is often employed by E-commerce businesses to help generate further conversions
